STUDENT EXPERIENCE

What to expect as a University fresher

The first thought that hit me when I realised I'd be spending two whole years at Mizoram University was the prospects of a humdrum life consecrated to academia. Secondly, a daily drudgery of commuting from Aizawl to the periphery of the City with its own climate or should I say—weather- made me dread my immediate future. But my own prejudices regarding MZU totally proved me wrong... starting from the first week of classes.

For me, MZU is an epitome of the proverb "Never judge a book by its cover". I gained a whole new level of academic knowledge especially in my subject (Economics) and experiences that I would have never had if I were not studying here. We were taught by one of the best faculties in the entire North East region and the best of the best in Mizoram. To be honest, the things that I learned during those two years surpassed what I had learned so far during my High School and Undergraduate years. We were taught by the most sympathetic and sagacious teachers who had a deep understanding for our academic endeavours.

Besides academics, MZU has its own unique environment which is beyond comparison to any other kind of place or institution in Mizoram. It's the perfect place to socialize and learn with people outside your community as it is the second home to many students from various parts of the country. Waiting for the buses after class is still one of the best ways to socialize as per my experience. Also, with the existence of a vibrant student community, MZU is the place where you can develop and nurture your skills and talents and showcase the same. The annual MZU Virthli festival organised by MZUSC is one of the grandest festivals in the entire region. This annual extravaganza alone is an incentive for many people outside the MZU fraternity to pay a visit.

Last but not the least, MZU is an abode of innumerable and ample opportunities with state-of-the-art libraries, internet facilities and laboratories to improve your prospect and realise your true potential. This one sentence might be enough to tell others why they should choose MZU as their second home—"It is the place where aspirations are won, not made".
